

Weirdogs- Cloud Ass Story Paradigm

Introduction:

Cloud-ass is flying through the air not a care in the world. He darts through the clouds and looks down on the countryside below. He's content and it shows in his flying patterns. He continues to fart his way through the skies, each time he does so he flits forward a little more and becomes a little more skinny. Birds fly by and drop as they are engulfed in his ass clouds.

Complication:

Cloud -ass has been flying and farting for so long now he is losing weight. He gets skinnier and skinnier until the amount of gas in his body is so low he can no longer carry his own weight. He struggles to maintain flying. With the effort of continuing to try and fly he farts one more time and starts towards the ground.

Climax:

Cloud ass starts plummeting to the ground at a fierce rate. He meets some birds on the way down who are shocked to see him hurtling groundward so fast. He falls through clouds each one creating a silent poof as he does so. He opens his mouth and he suddenly fills with air like a parachute and he is saved.... he continues slowly to the ground.

Resolution:

While slowly falling toward the ground Cloud-ass spots a bunch of wild bumblebee plants and starts trying to edge towards them open mouthed. He lands face down in the flowers and starts to munch away happily at the bumblebee feast.

Finale:

He deflates the air, falls over and starts to gobble them all up and in doing so becomes fat again. He falls onto his stomach on the ground and flaps his wings. With one fart he is off and airborne and ready to start filling the sky with stinky clouds again. Well done Cloud-Ass.
